(i) Organisation and functioning

In accordance with article 16, para.5, Tertiary Education in Greece is public and free. The Law 4485/2017 delineates the structure of Higher Education and the legal form of Higher Education Institutions.

Up until 2018 (Law 4009/2011 and 4485/2017), Higher Education was divided into two sectors:

a) The University Sector (A.E.I.), which comprised Universities, Polytechnic Schools, Athens School of Fine Arts, the Hellenic Open University (undergraduate and postgraduate studies by distance) and the International Hellenic University (provision of undergraduate education in a foreign language).

b) The Technological Sector (T.E.I.) which comprised the Technological Education Institutions and the School of Pedagogical and Technological Education (ASPEN).

Persons in the provisions of Laws 4327/2018, 4359/2018, 4589/2018 and 4610/2019, Technological Education Institutions merged with University Institutions. As of 2018, Higher Education comprises the University Sector (Universities, Polytechnic Schools, Athens School of Fine Arts, the Hellenic Open University and the former T.E.I.) and the Technological Sector (the School of Pedagogical and Technological Education ASPEN). Additionally, there are State Institutions recognised as equal to the Institutions of the Higher Education University Sector confirming equivalent degrees (Higher Education Institutions ASII), as well as State Institutions equal to the Institutions of the Technological Sector of Higher Education (Naval Academies ANA, etc.). Finally, vocational and any other special training for a period of no more than three years are offered by the State under the supervision of all other Ministries.

(ii) Admission

Admission to Tertiary education entails the possession of a school-leaving certificate (Baccaulaureat), either from a General or a Technical Lyceum. Admission quotas for all Academic Departments are set according to the designated available places (quotas closed) as these are defined every year by the Ministry of Education and Religious Affairs. Successful admission to a School or a Department is determined by the candidate's performance at the national level entrance examinations, the candidate's choices (by order of preference) of desired Schools/Departments, and the General Admission Grade; Additional examinations in one or more subjects or compulsory preparatory tests are required for admission to specific Departments (e.g. Design, for entry in the School of Architecture).

From the academic year 2019-2020 onwards, student admission to the Department of Music Studies at the University of Ioannina requires passing the national entrance exams, organised according to the provisions of the article 19 of Law 4359/2018 (A' 13).

Student admission to the Department of Fine Arts and Art Sciences of the University of Ioannina requires special entrance examinations in accordance with the relevant Ministerial decision if: 151-17512/A5 OGG 418/B/2017.

(iii) Study Cycles

First Cycle Degree Programmes: It involves the attendance of an undergraduate programme that leads to the acquisition of the corresponding Degree or Diploma. The degree / Diploma leads to the labor market, as well as enabling access to secondary third cycle studies. The duration of studies at the undergraduate level ranges from four (4) to six (6) years. The teaching load for each
